Welcome to our courses and activities!

Welcome to the Martinus Centre in Klint!

In this programme you will find an introduction to the Martinus Centre, Klint and an overview of our online and on-site courses and lectures.

The Martinus Centre, Klint is a centre for courses and holidays in the middle of the county of Odsherred's beautiful countryside. Here you can enjoy the peace and quiet of the countryside and the company of other participants while you immerse yourself in the spiritual world picture of the Danish writer Martinus.

In 1935 the centre in Klint was founded by Martinus as Denmark's first holiday camp. It has developed over the years to become a modern centre with facilities for courses, a lecture hall, café, restaurant, camping site and charming holiday homes including summer cottages and pavilions.

There are plenty of opportunities to take part in inspiring conversations – for example, in the café or restaurant – while the surrounding countryside tempts participants to go for walks with others or to reflect quietly. All of this – and the beautiful natural surroundings – form the cosy, physical framework for your stay in Klint.

This year we continue developing our digital resources in order to facilitate online learning and participation. In 2024 we are happy to present a new website in English with a modern design. Here, you can find information about our upcoming events and read Martinus's works in our online library. You can also subscribe to our magazine Kosmos and sign up for an English newsletter, which is sent out 4-6 times a year.

We also continue our online study group based on a systematic study of The Third Testament – Livets Bog (The Book of Life), vols. 1–5. During autumn and spring, we will broadcast interviews in English on various topics on our YouTube channel. During the International Weeks, we broadcast all lectures live on our Crowdcast channel.

Learn more about all our activities in the programme.

We look forward to meeting you!

Martinus and his works

In the little town of Sindal in northern Jutland the Danish writer Martinus (1890–1981) was born out of wedlock to the housekeeper of Kristiansminde, a large farm, and grew up as a foster child of his mother's brother and his wife. They had a large family, but they took loving care of yet another child. Even as a child Martinus felt a close, personal relationship to God. But his God was loving – not strict and punitive, as the local, evangelical priest had taught him. He thus felt a strong connection to a spiritual providence but could not come to terms with the interpretation of Christianity of that time.

A new world picture was born

In his youth Martinus was trained as a dairyman and worked for a number of years in various dairies around the country. In 1917 he moved to Copenhagen where he, among other things, got an office job at a dairy called Enighed. But in 1921 something epoch-making happened for the then 30-year-old man. He had an extensive spiritual experience that gave him permanent intuitive access to life's eternal dimension. This changed the course of his life for ever. The experience enabled him to describe a new, spiritual world picture, which he spent the rest of his life communicating. This world picture expresses both a clear and law-bound connection between the physical and the spiritual world and a positive, loving vision of the evolution and future of the whole of mankind – a completely optimistic view of life.

Great interest in Martinus

During the following decades Martinus worked untiringly and wrote, among other things, a series of books, of which his main work is Livets Bog (The Book of Life). Martinus called his collected works The Third Testament. A continually widening circle of enthusiasts contributed both practically and financially to disseminating his works at home and abroad. This support made it possible to establish the Martinus Institute in Frederiksberg, Copenhagen and the Martinus Centre, Klint in the county of Odsherred, Denmark.

Indefatigably Martinus continued his modest and hard-working life in the service of spiritual science – always in close collaboration with his many friends and other Martinus enthusiasts. Today Martinus's works are translated into over 20 languages and are studied in depth by thousands of people the world over. Before his death in 1981 Martinus handed over his life's work to a fund, which still – with the help of a few employees and a great number of volunteers – keeps his world picture and its dissemination alive.

Learn about Martinus in many ways

At the Martinus Centre, Klint interest in Martinus's world picture is at the centre of our activities. There are many ways of studying Martinus depending on your own wishes. Some people just drop in on the centre's café for a cup of coffee and to hear a lecture, while others study Martinus's spiritual science in depth for weeks or years at a time. In addition, there is accommodation for retreat guests during the spring and autumn.

At the centre we have activities for all tastes in the Scandinavian languages all the year round. Many of our activities take place during the summer half of the year, not least during the school holidays from the end of June to mid-August. For the moment the centre's activities in English take place mainly during the two International Weeks at the end of our summer season. We have also developed our possibilities for offering activities both online and on-site, including an online study group from January to December. Our summer activities include:

Lectures (on-site and online):

During our International Weeks we give daily morning lectures in the Scandinavian languages. These are simultaneously translated into English. There are evening lectures in English. All summer lectures are broadcast via our online Crowdcast channel. We also have a number of free online lectures and courses on our YouTube channel.

Study groups (on-site and online):

The International Courses during the summer offer the possibility for newcomers and more experienced students to join introductory study groups and more in-depth study groups based on Martinus's books and articles. We offer an online study group on Livets Bog (The Book of Life): read more on p. 11. This summer we also offer two on-site study groups in English. Read more information on p. 16–17.

Symbol explanations:

Martinus drew and painted 100 symbols, most of which will be explained in group sessions in English offering the opportunity for participants to put their questions and to study the symbols in depth.

For more information see our new website.

Here you can also see Martinus's symbols and read some of his works online.

Online study group in English January–December 2024

The Third Testament – Livets Bog (The Book of Life), vol. 2 Alternate Fridays at 19.00–20.30 CET

In 2024 we will continue our systematic study of Martinus's main work Livets Bog (The Book of Life) by reading volume 2 over 20 sessions. Newcomers are welcome.

Livets Bog (The Book of Life), vol. 3 continues Martinus's exploration of "cosmic chemistry" from vol. 2 and includes an explanation of the symbols "The principle of cycles" and "The solution to the mystery of life". This is followed by an analysis of 63 "life substances" or "substances of consciousness", terms that embrace all manifestations of life both physical and spiritual, and an analysis of the number system, which is shown to contain the entire, eternal world picture. Themes covered include eternal life, birth, death and reincarnation, the microcosmos, mesocosmos and macrocosmos, the law of cause and effect, the creation of fate, and the evolution of our sexuality and creativity and the inner conflicts involved in this process. From an eternal perspective all life experience – pleasant and unpleasant – is shown to be meaningful and to serve a loving purpose.

The group will meet on Zoom every second week on Friday evenings 19.00–20.30 CET (Central European Time/Copenhagen).

Term dates:

Friday 5th January–31st May and 30th August–20th December 2024. We plan to continue with the other volumes after that.

Volume 3 can be purchased in our bookshop (see also p. 34).

You may also read it online free of charge on our website.

If you would like to enrol or receive further information, please contact Mary McGovern at: mary@martinus.dk

Price: 900 DKK (Danish kroner) for 21 sessions in 2024.

The number of participants is limited.

When your place in the group has been confirmed, you will be sent details of how to pay.

Free live-streamed interviews in English January– November 2024

From January to April and from September to November 2024 we invite everyone to watch free live-streamed interviews with various guests in English at 16:00–17:00 CET via our English YouTube channel.

The interviews will address current topics from the perspective of Martinus's world picture – e.g. the world situation, health, research on consciousness and near-death experiences, and much more.

The topics and guests will be announced on our website and on Facebook.

The International Summer Weeks

Summer Week 5

Saturday 27th July–Saturday 3rd August

THEME: Inspiration and joy in living

What is it that fills us with inspiration and joy? This question is crucial to both our health and our experience of the meaning of life. Our sources of inspiration are very individual and change throughout the course of evolution. Artists, entrepreneurs, innovators, social and human projects and scientific discoveries enrich both mankind and the individual. How do we best get in touch with our dawning intuition and creative joy?

Summer week 6

Saturday 3rd August–Saturday 10th August

THEME: From the art of war to the art of living

After every war, more people become pacifists. In the past, the art of war was the noblest of arts. All the suffering that has followed in the footsteps of wars and conflicts over the centuries has fuelled a growing compassion and care for one's neighbour. The longing for peace and research into humane conflict resolution and a fair distribution of resources is growing. Love will transform all science, art, agriculture, economy and so on into care for all life.

Voluntary, unpaid work plays an important role at the Martinus Centre, Klint. As a volunteer you work with tasks you yourself have chosen. You also get a co-worker discount and lots of time to enjoy being part of a unique and lively meeting place

A particular characteristic of the Martinus Centre, Klint is that most of the work is done by voluntary, unpaid co-workers. There are always lots of jobs that need to be done, for example, teaching, administration, cleaning, cooking, gardening and maintenance. There is something for all tastes and levels of skill, and our co-workers are just as varied as their tasks.

You can have a major say in the work you do

As a volunteer you have a major say in which tasks you undertake. At the same time, you contribute to creating the very special and loving atmosphere that characterises the centre.

At the centre we all work so as to give one another – course participants, guests and co-workers – a pleasant, enriching experience. In this way we all take part in making the Martinus Centre, Klint the very special course centre that it is.

You are welcome to visit the Martinus Institute on Mariendalsvej, Frederiksberg, Copenhagen. Here you can see Martinus's historical flat which has been preserved as a museum. Visitors are welcome to see the environment in which Martinus spent most of his time and spent many hours writing his cosmic analyses, conducting meetings with his co-workers, receiving guests from home and abroad etc. The flat is preserved in the same form as it had when he used it with his typewriter, furniture and inventory; some of his original symbols still hang on the walls.

We kindly ask you to contact the Institute in advance to arrange a time for your visit by e-mail: info@martinus.dk or by phone: +45 38 38 01 00.
