Welcome to our courses and activities!

Welcome to the Martinus Centre in Klint!

In this programme you will find an introduction to the Martinus Centre, Klint and an overview of our online and on-site courses and lectures.

The Martinus Centre, Klint is a centre for courses and holidays in the middle of the county of Odsherred's beautiful countryside. Here you can enjoy the peace and quiet of the countryside and the company of other participants while you immerse yourself in the spiritual world picture of the Danish writer Martinus.

In 1935 the centre in Klint was founded by Martinus as Denmark's first holiday camp. It has developed over the years to become a modern centre with facilities for courses, a lecture hall, café, restaurant, camping site and charming holiday homes including summer cottages and pavilions.

There are plenty of opportunities to take part in inspiring conversations – for example, in the café or restaurant – while the surrounding countryside tempts participants to go for walks with others or to reflect quietly. All of this – and the beautiful natural surroundings – form the cosy, physical framework for your stay in Klint.

In the last few years we have developed our digital resources in order to facilitate online participation. We broadcast our summer lectures in English live and offer online study groups.

This year we will continue the online study group based on a systematic study of The Third Testament – Livets Bog (The Book of Life), vols. 1–5. We also offer a hybrid course about “Life as a cosmic theatre” in May and an online conference on “Consciousness and its spiritual dimensions” in October.

You can also subscribe to our magazine Kosmos, read Martinus's works in our online library and listen to English podcasts.

Learn more about all our activities in the programme.

We look forward to meeting you!

Martinus and his works

In the little town of Sindal in northern Jutland the Danish writer Martinus (1890–1981) was born out of wedlock to the housekeeper of Kristiansminde, a large farm, and grew up as a foster child of his mother's brother and his wife. They had a large family, but they took loving care of yet another child. Even as a child Martinus felt a close, personal relationship to God. But his God was loving – not strict and punitive, as the local, evangelical priest had taught him. He thus felt a strong connection to a spiritual providence but could not come to terms with the interpretation of Christianity of that time.

A new world picture was born

In his youth Martinus was trained as a dairyman and worked for a number of years in various dairies around the country. In 1917 he moved to Copenhagen where he, among other things, got an office job at a dairy called Enigheden. But in 1921 something epoch-making happened for the then 30-year-old man. He had an extensive spiritual experience that gave him permanent intuitive access to life's eternal dimension. This changed the course of his life for ever. The experience enabled him to describe a new, spiritual world picture, which he spent the rest of his life communicating. This world picture expresses both a clear and law-bound connection between the physical and the spiritual world and a positive, loving vision of the evolution and future of the whole of mankind – a completely optimistic view of life.

Great interest in Martinus

During the following decades Martinus worked untiringly and wrote, among other things, a series of books, of which his main work is Livets Bog (The Book of Life). Martinus called his collected works The Third Testament. A continually widening circle of enthusiasts contributed both practically and financially to disseminating his works at home and abroad. This support made it possible to establish the Martinus Institute in Frederiksberg, Copenhagen and the Martinus Centre, Klint in the county of Odsherred, Denmark.

Indefatigably Martinus continued his modest and hard-working life in the service of spiritual science – always in close collaboration with his many friends and other Martinus enthusiasts. Today Martinus's works are translated into over 20 languages and are studied in depth by thousands of people the world over. Before his death in 1981 Martinus handed over his life's work to a fund, which still – with the help of a few employees and a great number of volunteers – keeps his world picture and its dissemination alive.

Learn about Martinus in many ways

At the Martinus Centre, Klint interest in Martinus's world picture is at the centre of our activities. There are many ways of studying Martinus depending on your own wishes. Some people just drop in on the centre's café for a cup of coffee and to hear a lecture, while others study Martinus's spiritual science in depth for weeks or years at a time. In addition, there is accommodation for retreat guests during the spring and autumn.

At the centre we have activities for all tastes in the Scandinavian languages all the year round. Many of our activities take place during the summer half of the year, not least during the school holidays from the end of June to mid-August. For the moment the centre's activities in English take place mainly during the two International Weeks at the end of our summer season. We have also developed our possibilities for offering activities both online and on-site, including a hybrid course in the spring and an online conference in the autumn, as well as an online study group from January to December. Our summer activities include:

Lectures (on-site and online):

During our International Weeks we give daily morning lectures in the Scandinavian languages. These are simultaneously translated into English. There are evening lectures in English. All summer lectures are broadcast via our online Crowdcast channel. We also have a number of free online lectures and courses on our YouTube channel (see more information on p. 11).

Study groups (on-site and online):

The International Courses during the summer offer the possibility for newcomers and more experienced students to join introductory study groups and more in-depth study groups based on Martinus's books and articles. This summer we offer two on-site and online study groups in English. See more information on p. 16–17.

Symbol explanations:

Martinus drew and painted 100 symbols, most of which will be explained in group sessions in English offering the opportunity for participants to put their questions and to study the symbols in depth.

For more information see our website.

Here you can also see Martinus's symbols and read some of his works online.

Online study group in English January–December 2023

The Third Testament – Livets Bog (The Book of Life), vol. 2 Alternate Fridays at 19.00–20.30 CET

In 2023 we will continue our systematic study of Martinus's main work Livets Bog (The Book of Life) by reading volume 2 over 20 sessions. Newcomers are welcome.

In volume 2, Martinus provides an analysis of “cosmic chemistry”, the science of non-physical, spiritual substances that govern our lives. Topics dealt with include: the law of the reaction of substances; cosmic chemistry as the science of fate; the I's eternal sources of power; the nature of sleep; the symbol “The Combination of the Basic Energies”; thought climates; the triune principle as the highest analysis of existence; the cosmic speech of life; the solution to the mystery of life.

The group will meet on Zoom every second week on Friday evenings 19.00–20.30 CET (Central European Time/Copenhagen).

Term dates:

Friday 6th January–12th May and 18th August–15th December 2023. We plan to continue with the other volumes after that.

Volume 2 can be purchased in our bookshop (see also p. 34).

You may also read it online free of charge on our website.

If you would like to enrol or receive further information, please contact Mary McGovern at: mary@martinus.dk

Price: 900 DKK (Danish kroner) for 20 sessions in 2023.

The number of participants is limited.

When your place in the group has been confirmed, you will be sent details of how to pay.

Life as a cosmic theatre – a way to understanding our life
On-site and online weekend course
Friday 26th 19.00–Sunday 28th May 14.00 CET

With Mary McGovern, Anne Pullar, Micael Söderberg and Pernilla Rosell.

Welcome to this weekend hybrid course, where you can participate both physically, in person in Klint or online from anywhere in the world, thus combining traditional face-to-face learning with online learning.

To what extent do we have a free will and how much can we influence our fate? According to Martinus's analyses our lives can be compared to a cosmic theatre play, where we are actors, directors, members of the audience and stage hands at the same time. We play different roles on this "stage of life", creating and experiencing our fate based on experiences, habits and talents. Behind the scenes we have "the engine room" that Martinus calls our "night consciousness". Here we have hidden talents and powers that we are not always aware of in our daily life.

On-site attendance: 650 DKK (course fee + lunch, dinner, tea and coffee), 1,250 DKK (course fee, accommodation, lunch and dinner, tea and coffee)

Online attendance: 250 DKK via Zoom. You will receive the link to our Zoom-room after registration.

Booking and registration: info@martinus.dk
Telephone: +45 38 38 01 00 (Monday to Thursday 9 am–12 noon)

Consciousness and its spiritual dimensions
Online conference via Zoom
16.00–20.00 on 20th–21st October 2023

We invite you to take part of a series of online lectures by invited guests as well as teachers at the Martinus Centre, Klint. Participants will have plenty of opportunities to ask questions and participate in dialogue. The conference will take place on Zoom.

What is consciousness and where is it? Why do we perceive our surroundings, our fellow beings and ourselves in the way we do? Martinus describes our consciousness as being situated in a spiritual dimension. We have a physical brain and a physical body, but behind them our consciousness also has a number of spiritual bodies and an eternal superconsciousness. We need to consider the spiritual dimensions of consciousness in order to understand how we create and experience our life and fate. We will also consider how Martinus's analyses relate to modern research within natural sciences, psychology and philosophy.

Online attendance: 250 DKK via Zoom. You will receive the link to our Zoom-room after registration. A full programme will be published on our website.

Summer Week 5

Saturday 22nd July—Saturday 29th July

THEME: Is peace possible?

Today's wave of armament and clamour of war makes many people pessimistic. Some believe that there has always been war and there will always be war. In the perspective of reincarnation, more and more pacifists are born after every war. Martinus believes that peace is not only possible, but an inevitable result of evolution. All the sufferings mankind experiences in the form of wars, disease and unhappy fates create humaneness. Current world events inspire more and more people to work towards an international world society that will ban war and create conditions for real peace.

Summer week 6

Saturday 29th July—Saturday 5th August

THEME: Making a connection with one's neighbour and with God

In our materialistic age, we can easily feel like a lonely particle thrown into a random lottery of fate. When spiritual science unveils the structure and purpose of eternal life, a meaningful universe opens up where everything is connected in the whole that we have come to know as God. Everything that happens has a loving purpose, even what we experience as unpleasant. In a cosmic perspective, it is natural to seek to dissolve feelings of separation and meaninglessness by means of forgiveness, prayer and a scientific understanding of the meaning of life and the presence of God.

As a volunteer you have a major say in which tasks you undertake. At the same time, you contribute to creating the very special and loving atmosphere that characterises the centre.

At the centre we all work so as to give one another – course participants, guests and co-workers – a pleasant, enriching experience. In this way we all take part in making the Martinus Centre, Klint the very special course centre that it is.

Visit the Martinus Institute in Copenhagen

You are welcome to visit the Martinus Institute on Mariendalsvej, Frederiksberg, Copenhagen. Here you can see Martinus's historical flat which has been preserved as a museum. Visitors are welcome to see the environment in which Martinus spent most of his time and spent many hours writing his cosmic analyses, conducting meetings with his co-workers, receiving guests from home and abroad etc. The flat is preserved in the same form as it had when he used it with his typewriter, furniture and inventory; some of his original symbols still hang on the walls.

We kindly ask you to contact the Institute in advance to arrange a time for your visit by e-mail: info@martinus.dk or by phone: +45 38 38 01 00.

Support our work

The Martinus Centre, Klint and the Martinus Institute are to a great extent based on the principle of giving. Every year we receive very many gifts, partly in the form of voluntary work on a large scale and partly in the form of monetary gifts and legacies. The gifts that we receive ensure that we can continue and develop our many activities and tasks, such as the publication of Martinus's original works and their translations, information, teaching, the digitalisation of the works, the maintenance of buildings, the renewal of furnishings and installations etc.

See here how you can support our work in the form of monetary gifts as well as through legacies and inheritancies.
