Welcome to our courses and activities!

Welcome to the Martinus Centre in Klint!

In this programme you will find an introduction to the Martinus Centre, Klint and an overview of our online and on-site courses and lectures.

The Martinus Centre, Klint is a centre for courses and holidays in the middle of the county of Odsherred's beautiful countryside. Here you can enjoy the peace and quiet of the countryside and the company of other participants while you immerse yourself in the spiritual world picture of the Danish writer Martinus.

In 1935 the centre in Klint was founded by Martinus as Denmark's first holiday camp. It has developed over the years to become a modern centre with facilities for courses, a lecture hall, café, restaurant, camping site and charming holiday homes including summer cottages and pavilions.

There are plenty of opportunities to take part in inspiring conversations – for example, in the café or restaurant – while the surrounding countryside tempts participants to go for walks with others or to reflect quietly. All of this – and the beautiful natural surroundings – form the cosy, physical framework for your stay in Klint.

In the last few years we have developed our digital resources in order to facilitate online participation. We broadcast most of our lectures live and offer online study groups and courses. This year we are starting an online study group based on a systematic study of The Third Testament – Livets Bog (The Book of Life), vols. 1–5.

You can also subscribe to our magazine Kosmos, read Martinus's works on our homepage and listen to English podcasts.

We look forward to meeting you!

Regarding the corona pandemic:

All our activities will be carried out in accordance with instructions issued by the Danish Health Authority. We are keeping ourselves fully up to date with the situation and reserve the right to change the programme, should the need arise. You are guaranteed a full refund of all your payments, if we unexpectedly have to cancel a course you have enrolled for. The same applies if you would like to cancel due to developments in the corona situation.

Martinus and his works

In the little town of Sindal in northern Jutland the Danish writer Martinus (1890–1981) was born out of wedlock to the housekeeper of Kristiansminde, a large farm, and grew up as a foster child of his mother's brother and his wife. They had a large family, but they took loving care of yet another child. Even as a child Martinus felt a close, personal relationship to God. But his God was loving – not strict and punitive, as the local, evangelical priest had taught him. He thus felt a strong connection to a spiritual providence but could not come to terms with the interpretation of Christianity of that time.

A new world picture was born

In his youth Martinus was trained as a dairyman and worked for a number of years in various dairies around the country. In 1917 he moved to Copenhagen where he, among other things, got an office job at a dairy called Enighed. But in 1921 something epoch-making happened for the then 30-year-old man. He had an extensive spiritual experience that gave him a permanent intuitive access to life's eternal dimension. This changed the course of his life for ever. The experience enabled him to describe a new, spiritual world picture, which he spent the rest of his life communicating. This world picture expresses both a clear and law-bound connection between the physical and the spiritual world and a positive, loving vision of the evolution and future of the whole of mankind – a completely optimistic view of life.

Great interest in Martinus

During the following decades Martinus worked untiringly and wrote, among other things, a series of books, of which his main work is Livets Bog (The Book of Life). Martinus called his collected works The Third Testament. A continually widening circle of enthusiasts contributed both practically and financially to disseminating his works at home and abroad. This support made it possible to establish the Martinus Institute in Frederiksberg, Copenhagen and the Martinus Centre, Klint in the county of Odsherred, Denmark.

Indefatigably Martinus continued his modest and hard-working life in the service of spiritual science – always in close collaboration with his many friends and other Martinus enthusiasts. Today Martinus's works are translated into over 20 languages and are studied in depth by thousands of people the world over. Before his death in 1981 Martinus handed over his life's work to a fund, which still – with the help of a few employees and a great number of volunteers – keeps his world picture and its dissemination alive.

Learn about Martinus in many ways

At the Martinus Centre, Klint, interest in Martinus's world picture is at the centre of our activities. There are many ways of studying Martinus depending on your own wishes. Some people just drop in on the centre's café for a cup of coffee and to hear a lecture, while others study Martinus's spiritually scientific analyses in depth for weeks or years at a time. In addition, there is accommodation for retreat guests during the spring and autumn.

At the Martinus Centre, Klint we have activities for all tastes in the Scandinavian languages all the year round. Many of our activities take place during the summer half of the year, not least during the school holidays from the end of June to mid-August. For the moment the centre's activities in English take place mainly during the two International Weeks at the end of our summer season. We have now developed our possibilities for offering many activities both online and on-site, including hybrid courses in the spring and autumn and an online study group from January to December. Our summer activities include:

Lectures (on-site and online):

During our International Weeks we have daily morning lectures in the Scandinavian languages. These are simultaneously translated into English. There are evening lectures in English. All summer lectures are broadcast via our online Crowdcast channel. We also have a number of free online lectures and courses on our YouTube channel (see more information on p. 11).

Study groups (on-site and online):

The International Courses during the summer offer the possibility for newcomers and more experienced students to join introductory study groups and more in-depth study groups based on Martinus's books and articles. This summer we offer two on-site and online study groups in English. See more information on p. 14–15.

Symbol explanations:

Martinus drew and painted 100 symbols, most of which will be explained in group sessions in English offering the opportunity for participants to put their questions and to study the symbols in depth.

For more information see our homepage: www.martinus.dk/en
Here you can also see Martinus's symbols and read some of his works online.

Hybrid weekend courses On-site and online, May and October 2022

In 2022 we are very happy to offer two weekend hybrid courses – one in May and one in October, “hybrid” meaning that you can participate both physically, in person in Klint or online from anywhere in the world, thus combining traditional face-to-face learning with online learning.

27th–29th May, Friday 19.00–Sunday 14.00
Human relationships and universal love

We see a variety of sexual states and behaviour, and a growing interest in human sexuality and gender issues. Why is marriage increasingly unstable? Why do many experience conflicting needs to express their creative and intellectual abilities and to be good parents and spouses? Why are some attracted to the opposite sex while others are attracted to their own sex or both sexes? We will study Martinus’s analysis of sexual evolution and look at how it can support us in gaining better insight into our own identity and help us navigate the changing sexual landscape.

7th–9th October, Friday 19.00–Sunday 14.00
Prayer and our communication with the spiritual world

Prayer is a science in itself and its use, in conjunction with cosmic science, can guarantee happiness, writes Martinus in his book “The Mystery of Prayer”. We will look at the nature of physical and telepathic prayer, the laws guaranteeing the granting of prayers and at how to pray in the spirit of universal love and complete unselfishness. We will see how prayer can help us establish an intimate relationship to God and give us strength, courage and inspiration to cope with challenging situations.

Summer Week 5

Saturday 23th July–Saturday 30th July

THEME: Reincarnation and evolution

Understanding our own fate is vital if we are to see a meaning and justice in life. The principle of reincarnation opens up a spiritual horizon that shows the significance of darkness for our evolution and that love underlies all experience of life. When we see all experiences, both pleasant and unpleasant, as teaching material and understand the rules of fate, we can learn to handle the challenges of daily life in a more conscious and life-giving way.

Summer week 6

Saturday 30th July–Saturday 6th August

THEME: Intuition and eternity

The fate of many people is characterised by sufferings such as illness, relationship problems and conflicts. Martinus describes how suffering, from the perspective of reincarnation, is a prerequisite for the evolution of compassion and love. With evolution a new faculty, intuition, arises, which will ultimately lead us all to cosmic consciousness. This permanent intuition is a source of knowledge that makes us conscious of the spiritual worlds and the eternal structure of the universe. With an understanding of reincarnation, karma and immortality, we can train ourselves to see the quiet presence of eternity and God's loving care for all life.

Visit the Martinus Institute in Copenhagen!

You are welcome to visit the Martinus Institute on Mariendalsvej, Frederiksberg, Copenhagen. Here you can see Martinus's historical flat which has been preserved as a museum. Visitors are welcome to see the environment in which Martinus spent most of his time and spent many hours writing his cosmic analyses, conducting meetings with his co-workers, receiving guests from home and abroad etc. The flat is preserved in the same form as it had when he used it with his typewriter, furniture and inventory; some of his original symbols still hang on the walls.

We kindly ask you to contact the Institute in advance to arrange a time for your visit by e-mail: info@martinus.dk or by phone: +45 38 38 01 00.

Support us!

The Martinus Centre, Klint, and the Martinus Institute are to a great extent based on the principle of giving. Every year we receive very many gifts, partly in the form of voluntary work on a large scale, and partly in the form of monetary gifts and legacies. The gifts that we receive ensure that we can continue and develop our many activities and tasks, such as the publication of Martinus's original works and their translations, information, teaching, the digitalisation of the works, the maintenance of buildings, the renewal of furnishings and installations etc.
