

What is consciousness and where is it?
Why do we perceive our surroundings,
our fellow beings and ourselves in the way we do?

Martinus describes our consciousness
as being situated in a spiritual dimension. We have a physical brain and a physical body, but behind them our consciousness also has a number of spiritual bodies and an eternal super-consciousness.

We invite you to take part of a series of online lectures by invited guests as well as teachers at the Martinus Centre, Klint.
Participants will have plenty of opportunities to ask questions and participate in dialogue. The conference will take place on Zoom.

Practical information

The conference takes place online via Zoom.

You will receive a link to our Zoom room after you have enrolled.

All participants are invited to engage actively in the dialogue sessions, but you are also welcome to listen to the lectures only.

All participants will also receive recordings of the presentations after the conference. Please note that the dialogue sessions will not be recorded.

Price for the entire conference: 250 DKK.

To enrol send an e-mail to: info@martinus.dk
You will receive information about payment after registration.

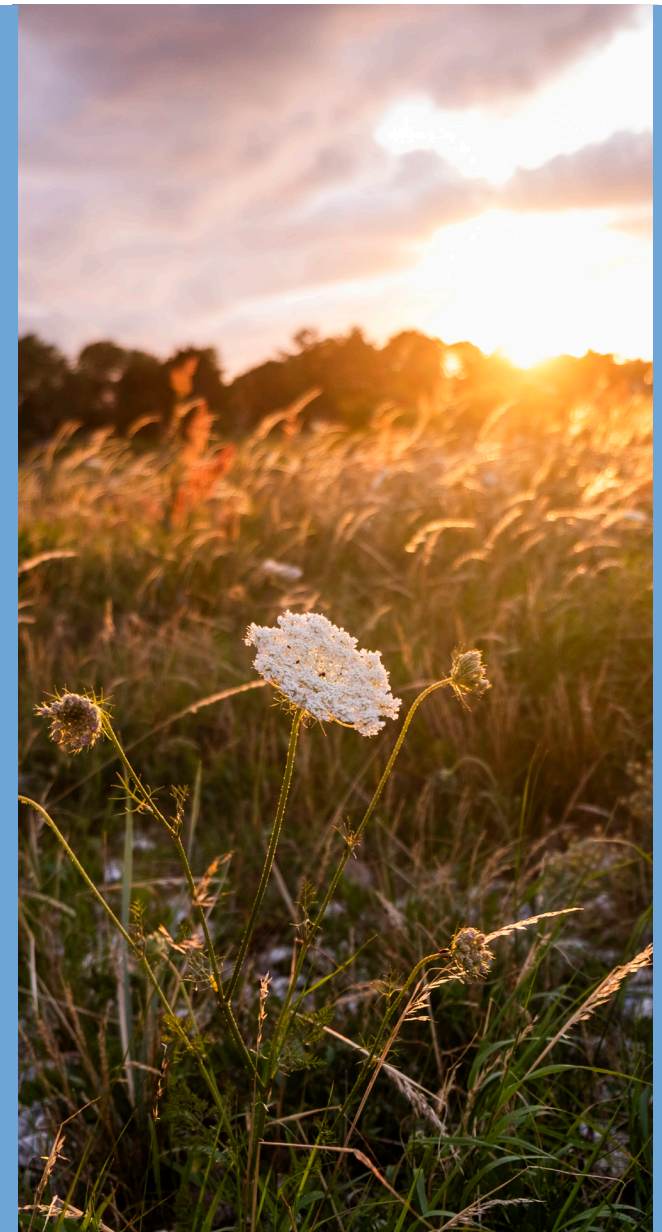

All times mentioned are Central European Time (CET).

Phone: +45 38 38 01 00 (Monday-Thursday 9:00–12:00)
E-mail: info@martinus.dk

See our entire English programme at www.martinus.dk/en

The Martinus Centre, Klint
Klintvej 69, Klint
4500 Nykøbing Sj.

+45 59 30 62 80
info@martinus.dk
www.mcklint.dk

Online conference in English:
Consciousness and its spiritual dimensions

20th–21st October 2023, 16.00–20.00 CET

Friday 20th October – Saturday 21st October at 16.00– 20.00 CET

Consciousness and its spiritual dimensions

Tove Blomqvist, Anne Külper, Mary McGovern, Rune Östensson, Nikolaj Pilgaard Petersen, Pernilla Rosell

In this online conference we will explore various spiritual dimensions of our consciousness. We will also consider how Martinus's analyses relate to modern research within philosophy, natural sciences, healing and psychology. We need to consider the spiritual dimensions of consciousness in order to understand how we create and experience our life and fate.

Everything that is, is consciousness.

Martinus: Livets Bog, vol. 2, sect. 377

The spiritual world is therefore a journeying in mentality or in layers of consciousness.

Martinus: Does the spiritual world exist?

Photos: Marie Rosenkrantz Gjedsted

PROGRAMME

Friday, 20th October

16.00-16.10 Welcome and introduction to day 1 – Pernilla Rosell

16.10-16.40 Martinus's view on spiritual dimensions of consciousness – Mary McGovern

16.40-17.00 Dialogue session

17.10-17.40 Philosophical perspectives on consciousness – Nikolaj Pilgaard Petersen

17.40-18.00 Dialogue session

Dinner break

18.40-19.10 The mystery of consciousness and matter – Rune Östensson

19.10-20.00 General dialogue and reflection (all lecturers + audience)

Saturday, 21st October

16.00-16.05 Welcome and introduction to day 2 – Pernilla Rosell

16.05-16.35 Attachment theory in a cosmic perspective – Tove Blomqvist

16.35-17.00 Dialogue session

17.10-17.40 The healing powers of consciousness – Anne Külper

17.40-18.00 Dialogue session

Dinner break

18.40-19.10 Exploring the spiritual dimensions of consciousness: a summary and further questions – Pernilla Rosell

19.10-20.00 Final general dialogue and reflection (all lecturers + audience)

All times mentioned are Central European Time (CET).